

23rd December – 1st January
25th June – 4th July

APPLE – MALUS

The Lover

The apple stands for charisma, charm and trust in the inherent goodness of people. The creativity and inventiveness of those born under this sign means they can master even difficult situations. Their calm yet clear behaviour gives those around them a sense of security.

In the right conditions, apples can achieve a great deal professionally, although their zest for life sometimes conflicts with this. Selfishness is an unfamiliar concept for apples, meaning that others sometimes take advantage of their kindness and generosity.

Apples have a great desire to love and to be loved. When they find a partner who recognises and supports their emotional diversity, they blossom into charismatic personalities.

2nd – 11th January
5th – 14th July

FIR – ABIES

The Mysterious One

The fir is an aesthete with exceptionally fine taste. Dignity and a sophisticated appearance are their distinguishing features. They are highly intelligent, as well as creative and inventive.

Those born under this sign have an emotional disposition and live in a state of constant sensitive exchange with their environment. Highly sensitive, they tend towards being outsiders.

Their vulnerability means that the fir sometimes seems stiff and aloof. However, they always stand with their friends, reliable and full of grace.

When it comes to love, the fir is not an easy partner, with their constant efforts to protect their tender hearts. A loving partner who is at peace with him or herself, however, will find the fir to be passionate and loyal.

12th – 24th January
15th – 25th July

ELM – ULMUS

The Well-Meaning One

The elm has an attractive appearance, which is capably emphasised by their tasteful clothing. They are humorous and optimistic by nature, extremely helpful and generous.

Elms like to take on responsibility, have a sharp intelligence and live in the present. They are open to many things and do not feel the need to raise their profile.

The elm sees exactly where help is required and always wants to assist. In order to avoid losing themselves, they should take care to allocate their energy effectively.

Love protects the elm. In a relationship, elms can develop freely and do everything for their partner. Thanks to the elm who loves the present, this can result in something wonderful and new which benefits both partners.

25th January – 3rd February
26th July – 4th August

CYPRESS – CUPRESSUS

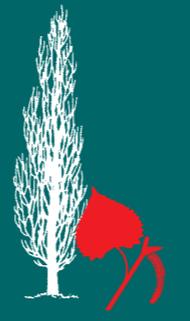

The Loyal One

The cypress is different and not afraid to admit it. They want to discover the world and need as much freedom as possible. Cypresses have a good sense of their own emotions. Boredom is a foreign concept for the cypress.

Thanks to their great intelligence and ability to reflect their surroundings, the curious cypress can hold their ground in their chosen career. They are rarely alone, but are constantly interacting with other people.

Those born under this sign find it difficult to handle any sort of constraints.

Cypresses appear enigmatic and compelling. They need tolerant, steadfast partners who are looking for constant interaction. A long-term relationship with a cypress is a guarantee for a life full of adventure.

4th – 8th February
5th – 13th August

POPLAR – POPULUS

The Uncertain One

The poplar is characterised by an attractive appearance and does not seem to age. They are ambitious and goal-oriented, as well as quick to grasp new tasks. Poplars have a practical outlook and thoroughly scrutinise everything.

Those born under this sign have a talent for organisation and are led by their intellect. This guides them to rapid success in all areas.

The world of emotions is uncomfortable for poplars, as they fear being distracted from the goals they have set for themselves. They should attempt to accept and become familiar with their emotions.

When it comes to love, the independent, often volatile personality of the poplar becomes sensitive and capable of great emotion. With a steadfast and strong partner at their side, they can allow themselves to experience their emotions.

9th – 18th February
14th – 23rd August

HACKBERRY – CELTIS

The Confident One

The hackberry is characterised by rare beauty and true personality. Those born under this sign are confident and decisive. Once goals are set they always fulfil them through hard work and perseverance. Hackberries are very demanding and often have good taste. For this reason, they can be found in creative industries.

In their work they make rapid decisions and demonstrate leadership qualities. Hackberries have difficulties coping with criticism – in fact, this doesn't even exist for them.

The partner of a hackberry finds stability in their healthy optimism and can be inspired by their enthusiasm. The hackberry is also demanding in a relationship and on the lookout for someone to take care of.

19th – 29th February
24th August – 2nd September

PINE – PINUS

The Choosy One

The pine is definitely aware of its attractiveness, and is said to be reasonable, courageous and objective. They are extremely adaptable, unusually energetic and can orient themselves anywhere. Pines tend to build their lives on stable foundations.

Those born under this sign are extremely active, consider things carefully, are said to be excellent organisers and enjoy the trust of their fellows – often bringing them great professional success.

Their emotions, which can sometimes be a heavy burden, are taken seriously but they always find a balance in their work. It can take some time before the pine opens up to love and meets a humorous partner with a zest for life and who can enrich their life with precisely these nuances.

1st – 10th March
3rd – 12th September

WILLOW – SALIX

The Melancholy One

The willow is full of grace, and is said to be empathetic and close to nature. They have emotional, extremely intuitive tendencies, they love challenges of any kind and value harmonious living conditions.

Their persistence, tolerance and humanity mean they can quickly achieve professional success. Willows like to travel, but are also extremely attached to their familiar environments, their home and their usual surroundings.

Those born under this sign are often ambivalent. Their dreamy, sensitive soul is in opposition to their changeable mind full of restlessness.

Willows find the support they crave in an equal partnership and are sensitive and loveable life partners. They constantly strive for harmony and unison of feelings.

11th – 20th March
13th – 22nd September

LINDEN – TILIA

The Selfless One

The linden is intelligent, versatile and always stands up selflessly for others – they would rather give than take. They are characterised by their constant calm and serenity.

The linden's strength is a sensitive, delicate character. They can respond well to people, thanks to their open nature, and always spark a ray of hope in the people they talk to.

Those born under this sign must learn to assign their energy efficiently and make sure that they are not taken advantage of by less sensitive individuals.

Lindens can develop wonderfully with a tolerant and libertarian partner. However, a relationship on an equal footing is important for a linden.

21st March

OAK – QUERCUS

The Robust One

The oak is respectable, full of vitality, robust and powerful. Those born under this sign are said to be courageous, independent and brave. They need freedom to develop their upright character. They like to be the centre of attention and eschew average behaviour.

Oaks live in the present and are thirsty for action. They often have powerful charisma and can put ideas into practice thanks to their sound intelligence.

Their strong, inflexible personalities can often cause trouble. Oaks do not handle criticism well.

Young oaks often fall in love “at first sight” and believe in true love. They are passionate people and want to be courted and admired.

23rd September

OLIVE – OLEA

The Wise One

With their passion for learning, the olive is successful and strives studiously for clarity, order and wisdom. They robustly follow their goals, led by a sense of fairness and tolerance. One of their strengths is their down-to-earth nature, which helps them to weather highs and lows.

Professionally, olives are highly successful, have a clear overview and solve problems to serve the common good. They enjoy books and the company of clever people.

Olives who are not raised to be tolerant can certainly appear to be critical and pedantic.

When it comes to love, olives need time to open up. Trust is the basis by which olives accept their feelings. They are tolerant partners who need a life partner at peace with themselves.

24th September – 3rd October

HAZELNUT – CORYLUS

The Exceptional One

The hazelnut is one of a kind, full of charm, understanding and knows how to win people over. Those born under this sign are said to have plenty of energy, making it possible for them to achieve all their goals and to have an extremely positive influence on their surroundings.

Hazelnuts are characterised by great intelligence, perceptiveness and empathy. They actively campaign for the common good which wins them popularity and appreciation from others.

The life of a hazelnut is not always easy and often takes surprising turns.

Hazelnuts are capricious when it comes to love and like to have impressive, stable partners. They are honest and tolerant life partners.

1st – 10th April
4th – 13th October

ROWAN – SORBUS

The Sensitive One

The rowan seems delicate at first glance, but proves to be energetic and persistent. They are blessed by nature to attract attention. Their cheerful character, as well as their empathy and sensitivity makes them a valued member of the community.

Rowans love a life full of movement, but are always careful to keep things balanced. Rapid decisions are not for them – they prefer to consider everything carefully. Equipped with good taste and empathy, they are at home in creative industries. Their diplomatic abilities are especially highly valued as they get older.

In relationships, rowans strive for harmony. They are sensitive, loving partners, who can also be impetuous and passionate.

11th – 20th April
14th – 23rd October

MAPLE – ACER

The Headstrong One

The maple is unusual and generous, an individual who needs plenty of freedom. Full of optimism, they are always on the lookout for new experiences and unexplored territories.

Their intelligence and quickness to grasp new tasks, paired with a healthy ambition far removed from conventions and constraints, are part of their brilliance.

Thanks to their well-developed individualism, those born under this sign are in danger of becoming lonely if they cannot build an understanding environment.

The maple tends to have complicated relationships, since their constant search for new experiences makes them exhausting partners. If the maple's desire for freedom is not limited, they can experience a multifaceted relationship.

21st – 30th April
24th October – 11th November

WALNUT – JUGLANS

The Passionate One

The walnut is tenacious and values consistency and long-term thinking. They are very emotional and are often steered by their feelings. Their strong need for security is manifested in their striving for material things.

Walnuts enjoy beautiful objects and are interested in creative and cultural subjects.

In their professional lives, walnuts are known to be ambitious and hard-working and as clever strategists with great intelligence. Their competence is often admired.

Their preference for consistency and intolerance of change makes walnuts inflexible. When their safety is threatened, they can turn into fighters.

For the passionate and emotional walnut, loyalty is of paramount importance. They always stand up for their families and close friends.

1st – 14th May

POPLAR – POPULUS

The Uncertain One

The poplar is characterised by an attractive appearance and does not seem to age. They are ambitious and goal-oriented, as well as quick to grasp new tasks. Poplars have a practical outlook and thoroughly scrutinise everything.

Those born under this sign have a talent for organisation and are led by their intellect. This guides them to rapid success in all areas.

The world of emotions is uncomfortable for poplars, as they fear being distracted from the goals they have set for themselves. They should attempt to accept and become familiar with their emotions.

When it comes to love, the independent, often volatile personality of the poplar becomes sensitive and capable of great emotion. With a steadfast and strong partner at their side, they can allow themselves to experience their emotions.

15th – 24th May
12th – 21st November

CHESTNUT – AESCULUS

The Honest One

The chestnut is a true helper in the community. They stand up for their way of living with plenty of drive and energy, especially when it serves the common good. Old habits can be flexibly corrected in order to achieve a goal. They will do anything for their families and know what to do in all situations.

Chestnuts are heavily influenced by their surrounding and living situation. They can either make a career or spend a lifetime fighting adversities without success. Their characteristic straightforwardness sometimes makes them somewhat complicated fellow human beings.

When it comes to love, the chestnut strives for union and profound emotions. Once they have opened up to their partners they are loyal and will do anything for their family.

25th May – 3rd June
22nd November – 1st December

ASH – FRAXINUS

The Ambitious One

The ash is an unusual personality with a lively, compelling character. Those born under this sign are explorers with a strong desire for freedom and enjoy all types of challenges. Ash are popular with others, benevolent and friendly.

Ash are true leaders, who achieve their ambitious goals thanks to their intelligence, talent and drive. They are impulsive and demanding – which means that they sometimes overtax their colleagues with their demands.

When it comes to love, the ash wants to find a worthy partner who can tolerate their desire for freedom. Sometimes their heads rule over their hearts, but once the ash has chosen a partner, they stand loyally by their side.

4th – 13th June
2nd – 11th December

HORNBEAM – CARPINUS

The Tasteful One

The hornbeam is beautiful and will be admired their whole life long. Those born under this sign are tough, astonishingly resilient and extremely rational and disciplined. They place great value in their appearance, are outstandingly fit and have a good sense of style.

Hornbeams are people of action, who follow their goals realistically. They have clear principles and know their limits, but tend to exaggerate when performing their duties. If their friends get into difficulties, they are completely reliable and ready to help.

Hornbeams are protective and often seem dominant. When it comes to love, they need a sensitive partner with a talent for diplomacy, who they will respect and love dependably.

14th – 23rd June
12th – 21st December

FIG – FICUS

The Sensitive One

The fig is an emotional person, very sensitive, imaginative and creative. They need harmonious surroundings and a clear goal in life to enable them to develop into a holistic personality which has an innovative, creative influence on their surroundings.

Those born under this sign are extremely restrained and disciplined. They can adapt to any living situation with ease and manage tasks through hard work and creativity. They are not, however, particularly ambitious.

Birch find strong, seemingly uncontrollable outbreaks of emotion difficult to handle.

For the fig, a partner who is at peace with themselves is important in order to pick them up from their emotional lows. Once they have found someone compatible and trustworthy, figs can be inventive and imaginative life partners.

24th June

BIRCH – BETULA

The Creative One

Birch are lively people, who spread ease and brilliance to their surroundings with their positive attitude to life. They are deemed attractive, elegant and aware of their abilities and their great intelligence.

Those born under this sign are extremely restrained and disciplined. They can adapt to any living situation with ease and manage tasks through hard work and creativity. They are not, however, particularly ambitious. Birch find strong, seemingly uncontrollable outbreaks of emotion difficult to handle.

When it comes to love, the birch is reliable and loyal. They find deep affection more important than blazing passion. They will often do anything for their partner and create surroundings full of harmony and satisfaction.

22th December

BEECH – FAGUS

The Formative One

The beech places great value in their appearance and dress tastefully. Beech are good leaders and with plenty of energy and self-confidence they realise their goals in life.

They are characterised by a conservative mind set and a tendency towards traditional values.

They are ideally suited for leadership positions, make decisions led by their intellect and always bear the common good in mind. Beech boldly realise projects and are excellent economists.

Beech are often overtaxed by their emotions. Those born under this sign are often only able to show their feelings within relationships. They are loyal, tenacious partners, yet invariably want to take a dominant role.
